

Please leave Indiana's no-call list alone. It has been so nice to answer the phone and not have someone try to sell you something or have them hang-up on you just as you answer because they got someone else to answer first. My granddaughter was staying with me a few days, she wasn't a year old yet, and was sick. For two days some one kept calling just as I got her to sleep. and of course no one would be there. Just as I would get my granddaughter back to sleep the phone would ring again, and again they would wake her up and no one would answer. When some one finally did answer I laid into them telling them I didn't appreciate them waking up my sick granddaughter. That company never called again. After putting our number on the on call list all call stopped. Thank-you!! Fava Allen
